Situation

Tadley Place is situated in a peaceful setting about two miles from the centre of Baughurst. It has lovely rural views over the adjoining farmland and far beyond. Within the nearby village of Baughurst there is a local shop, public house, church and schools, as well as a Montessori Nursery, The Children's House. The nearby villages of Kingsclere and Tadley offer further shopping facilities.

The major regional centres of Basingstoke, Reading and Newbury have a broader range of shopping, recreational and educational facilities and are all within easy reach.

Despite the rural location, communications in the area are excellent with a mainline station at Basingstoke, Newbury and Reading and easy access to both the M3 and M4 motorways.

There are an excellent number of independent schools in the area, including Cheam, Daneshill, Elstree and Downe House and a local state primary school, The Priory, is also nearby. Throughout the adjoining countryside there are numerous public footpaths and bridleways.

Tadley Place

Tadley Place is steeped in history and dates back to the 15th century, it was lived in by the Ludlow family until the late 17th century. Sir Edmund Ludlow was knighted by Queen Elizabeth I at Basing House, and in the House of Commons. Sir Edmund Ludlow was one of the judges who condemned Charles I to death.

Tadley Place has been beautifully restored to its former glory, you are welcomed by an entrance hall which leads into the oldest part of the house, which comprises a beautiful drawing room and separate reception room currently used as an office. There are charming views from both of these rooms, overlooking the immaculate garden which is open to the public once a year. On the other side of the entrance hall is a further reception room with grand, Georgian proportions. The vendors altered four small rooms to become a large, modern family kitchen with an adjoining snug, utility room and boot room.

The vendors have planning permission for a stunning extension to be added to the existing kitchen. It consists of a beautiful orangery, exercise pool, gym and shower room.

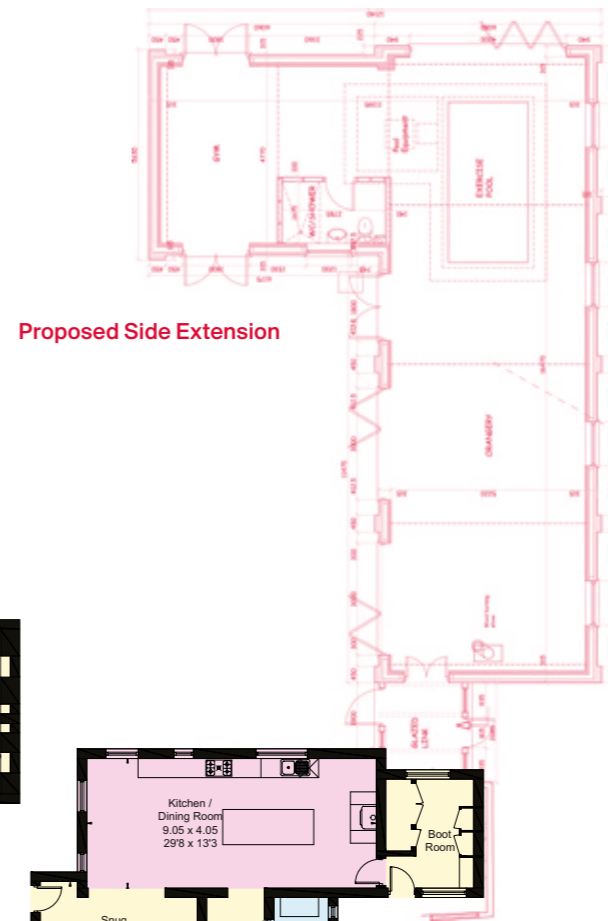

On the first floor there is a stunning principal bedroom with a large fireplace believed to date back to 1520's and excellent views over the garden and fields beyond. Next to the principal bedroom there is shower room and walk in wardrobe. There are a further two double bedrooms on this floor, one with an en-suite shower room and another with a family bathroom.

A spiral staircase leads onto the second floor which is a wonderful bedroom with a freestanding bathtub in the middle of the room and a WC and basin tucked away. A further staircase splits the second floor in two, to the left is a well-proportioned double bedroom with an en-suite bathroom and to the right is a wonderful double bedroom with vaulted ceilings and original beams. The pargetting in these rooms is believed to date back to the 1400's or very early 1500's.

Gardens and grounds

The garden was laid out by Kew in circa 1963 and has been open for the National Garden Scheme since 2020 following restoration.

In front of the house is the romantic walled garden and terrace with views over the fields, to the side is a formal garden enclosed by mature yew hedges with a 22m long border, wildflower area, herb beds and outdoor kitchen and entertaining area. There are further areas of garden including a large enclosed kitchen garden with bay trees, espaliered apples, pears and other fruit as well as a recently constructed 7.5m greenhouse with water and power.

Within the garden there are a good range of specimen trees, including an ancient mulberry, walnut, ginko, pendulous lime, acers, cedar of Lebanon, and a champion eucalyptus.

Woodland (Lot 2)

There are two well maintained paddocks with water and a large field shelter. These open onto about 32 acres of semi ancient, bluebell woods with recently resurfaced tracks and rides. The woodland has been restored and the tracks resurfaced Over 1000 native oaks have been planted and the large pond dug out and planted for wildlife. The woods provide an ideal environment for off road riding and would also support a family shoot.
