The property

Addison Road is a popular residential street in the heart of Charlotteville, a coveted central location which offers the best of town living while being on the doorstep of the countryside. The property has been beautifully refurbished throughout by the current owners to create a contemporary home while maintaining the period charm of the Victorian townhouse.

Decorated in fresh, neutral tones with wooden floors throughout, this house offers exquisite accommodation that is flooded with natural light and offers the incoming purchaser the opportunity to obtain a turn-key home in a coveted address.

On entering, the hallway leads through to the formal living room, which is currently used as a dining room, and has a large double window, high ceilings and period features including ceiling cornicing, picture rails and a ceiling rose. To the rear of the property, the open-plan kitchen, dining and family room is found and is the real heart of the home. The kitchen is an outstanding, bespoke Tom Howley kitchen and is fitted with top-of-the-range appliances including a Miele oven and microwave oven, a Quooker tap and a Bora induction hub set into the central island with breakfast bar seating that creates a social feel to the kitchen. Beyond, the kitchen space opens to a dining and family room with a large skylight and sliding glass doors that open to the garden and connect the entertaining space to the outside, creating a seamless connection. The lower ground floor has been converted to create a flexible space, currently used as a studio, but this would be an ideal guest bedroom with an adjoining shower room.

The principal bedroom suite occupies the entire first floor with fitted wardrobes in the bedroom area, along with a superb, generously sized, separate, walk-through dressing room which leads to the sumptuous en suite bathroom. Bedroom two is on the second floor and has an en suite bathroom, and large Velux windows allow natural light to fill the room. There is access to useful eaves storage on this floor also.

Garden and grounds

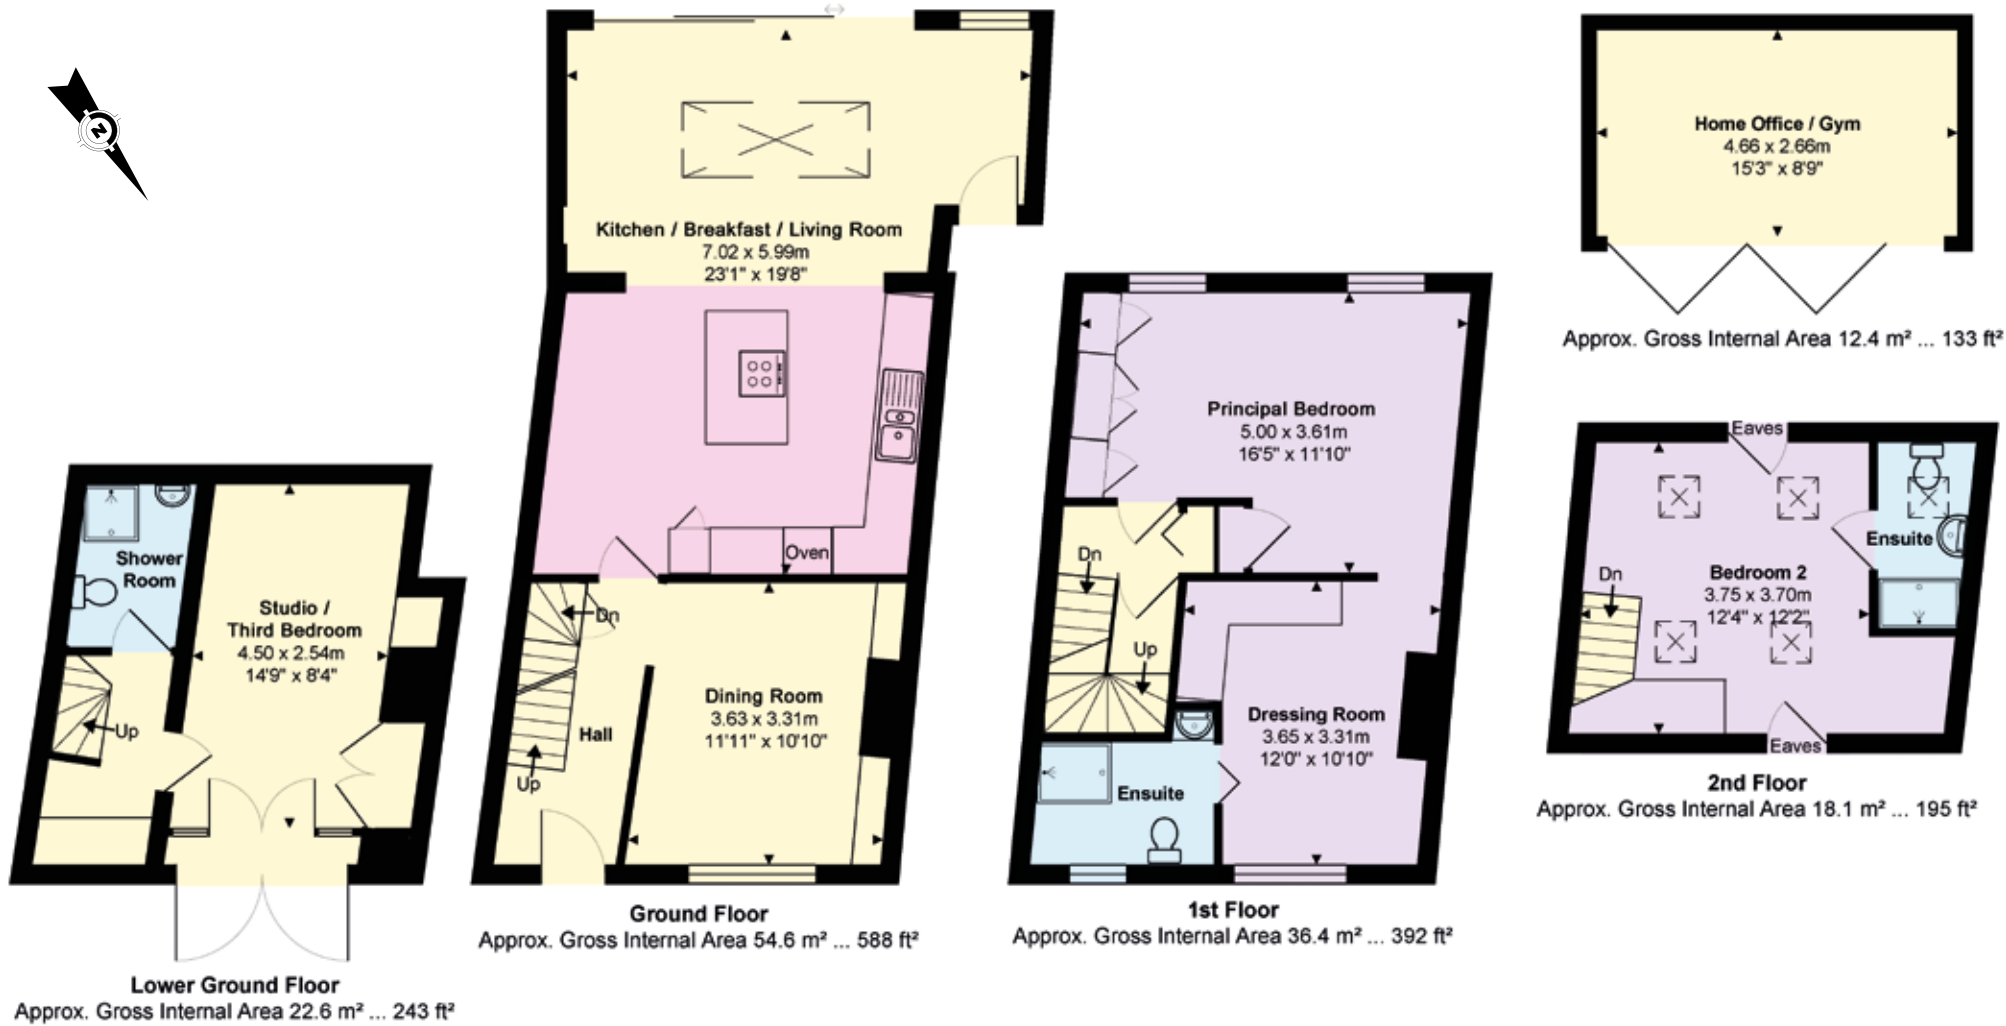

The property is set back from the road with a small off-street parking area, and steps lead up to the front door on the raised ground floor. There is also side access into the kitchen/dining/family room. The rear garden has been beautifully landscaped to enjoy to south-westerly aspect. The lower tier has flagstone paving and a built-in seating area which seamlessly extends the entertaining and dining space from the kitchen, dining and family room.
