Situation

There is a picturesque and quintessential English village, nestled in the heart of the Tillingbourne Valley, between Guildford and Dorking in Surrey. Renowned for its delightful 16th and 17th century architecture, the village exudes a timeless charm, with the Grade I listed St James’ Church – dating back to the 12th century – adding to its historic appeal. Surrounded by the breathtaking natural beauty of the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, There offers an abundance of outdoor pursuits, including hiking and cycling. The village is well-served by a range of local amenities, including two traditional pubs, The White Horse and The William Bray, a charming tearoom, the Co Op mini-market with Post Office facilities, Kinghams Restaurant, and a small museum. A peaceful stream meanders through the village, further enhancing its tranquil atmosphere. There’s cultural significance is also notable, having served as a filming location for the popular movie The Holiday, with the White Horse pub playing a prominent role. Combining historic allure, natural beauty, and a strong sense of community, There is an idyllic village that attracts both visitors and those seeking a desirable place to call home.

There is an excellent selection of schools in the area including Peaslake Primary School and Duke of Kent School in Peaslake, Longacres School in Shamley Green, Cranleigh Preparatory School and Cranleigh School in Cranleigh, St Catherine’s School in Bramley, Charterhouse School in Godalming, Tormead, Guildford High School, George Abbott School, Royal Grammar School and Royal Grammar Preparatory School, all in Guildford.

There offers a wealth of recreational opportunities set against the stunning backdrop of the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty. Outdoor enthusiasts can enjoy scenic hiking and cycling routes, including the picturesque Tillingbourne Trail and the panoramic views from Leith Hill. Families can visit Bocketts Farm Park for a day of animal encounters, while Polesden Lacey, a National Trust property, offers beautiful gardens and an elegant Edwardian house to explore. The village is home to traditional pubs, including the iconic White Horse, perfect for a relaxed retreat. For those with a passion for motorsports and polo, Goodwood and Cowdray Park are within easy reach, hosting prestigious events throughout the year. There combines outdoor adventure with a welcoming village atmosphere, making it an ideal destination for both recreation and relaxation.

Gallandes

Gallandes is a very attractive Grade II listed home, believed to date back to 1742, that has been refurbished throughout by our clients. Some of the work they have done includes new Heritage double-glazed windows, upgraded kitchen which was bespoke made by Masterclass, and bathrooms, the enlargement of two dormer windows on the top floor, and landscaping the gardens, to name just a few.

There is an entrance hall that provides storage for coats and shoes, which leads into the dining room. The dining room is open plan to the kitchen and features a built-in banquette seat, bespoke made by the kitchen company, and a large table—a perfect place for entertaining. The newly installed kitchen is a beautiful space, more recently added to the property, with an impressive vaulted ceiling and two sets of double doors leading to the rear garden. It is complemented by a large island with a stone worktop.

On the ground floor, there is also a sitting room, with a log-burning stove centrally located in the room, along with double doors leading to the rear garden.

Approximate Gross Internal Floor Area
Main House 1579 sq. ft / 146.70 sq. m

Gardens and grounds

The rear garden has been beautifully landscaped and designed and is accessed via the two sets of double doors from the kitchen, as well as the double doors from the sitting room. The garden is predominantly laid out over two tiers. A large, tiled patio provides an ideal space for seating, with central steps leading to the top tier of the garden. This area has been levelled and features a newly installed summer house, which is fully insulated and benefits from electricity and Wi-Fi.

The garden is bordered by closed-board fencing, and there are two garden sheds providing ample storage, as well as mature planting between the two levels.

A professional outdoor lighting system has also been installed up the stairs and in some of the flower beds which helps with the ambiance.
