COMMANDING VIEWS OF THE DREAMING SPIRES

OXFORD'S WESTERN EDGE lies in a loop of the River Thames, with the landscape rising quickly up out of the valley in which Oxford's iconic Dreaming Spires sit.

Near the top of Yarnells Hill are TRINITY HOUSE and ORIEL HOUSE, both of which sit on a large plot and enjoy excellent views across the city's skyline over Raleigh Park and the water meadows around South Hinksey.

This is the perfect location for both the commute and for leisure. It is close to Oxford city and the stations in the city centre or at Oxford Parkway, just a few minutes' drive round the ring road. The beautiful rolling countryside of Oxfordshire is on the doorstep: sailing at Farmoor, boating on the Thames as it meanders through the quiet Upper Thames Valley or exploring the ancient Ridgeway, England's oldest road, on its east-west journey over the North Wessex Downs.

The local centre at Botley has recently been redeveloped and provides a good range of shops: there are delicatessens and supermarkets including a Waitrose, and surrounding villages offer some high quality dining pubs.

TRADITIONAL DESIGN AND CUTTING-EDGE TECHNOLOGY

A PAIR OF IMPOSING 5-BEDROOM PROPERTIES,
EACH WITH SUPERB GREEN TECH FEATURES

THE PRINCIPAL BEDROOM SUITE FEATURES A FULLY FITTED DRESSING ROOM

TRINITY HOUSE AND ORIEL HOUSE are beautifully designed properties in warm red brick with stone detailing, and are perfect examples of the Sweetcroft difference: the latest construction methods, rigorous quality control at every stage and green technology, sustainability and low running costs at their heart.

They are constructed and insulated to comfortably meet the latest standards in order to gain an A rating for energy efficiency. We have achieved this stringent new level – over 30% higher than previously – with a considerable uprating in specifications. We are proud to have been commended for our commitment to sustainability and exceptional insulation attainments, which have consistently achieved a 40% advantage over required levels in our recent developments.

They are also, of course, fantastic properties to live in, with a spacious kitchen/living area, separate drawing room and home office. Upstairs, the principal suite has a luxurious bathroom with free-standing bath, and a stylish, fully-fitted dressing room. There are two further ensuites.
