

Heather Cottage, Church Street, Micheldever

Heather Cottage originally began life as three cottages and has been extended and modernized over the years to create one thatched cottage. The original part of the home is understood to date back to the 16th Century, while recent additions have been added over the years. The cottage is approached via a wooden gate surrounded by mature flowers and plants, leading to the main entrance of the property. You are welcomed into the delightful lounge/dining room, dominated by an inglenook fireplace fitted with a wood burning stove. A step down brings you into a lovely, light snug, featuring a bay window overlooking the garden with a door gaining access to the terrace and garden. The high-ceiling kitchen is well-equipped and modern, following into a breakfast room with a door leading to a utility room and a separate WC. Approaching the stairs to the first floor is a dog-leg staircase. Leading up to a modern fitted shower room and a study. Further up the stairs you are welcomed by the first floor, with a large landing with plenty of storage. The double aspect, generous principal bedroom, includes some original period features. The second double bedroom benefits from views overlooking the garden from an old original window.
