

LIVING IN HYDE PARK

Knight Frank

Characterised by family-friendly communal garden squares where garden parties take place throughout the year, Hyde Park offers a village atmosphere as well as the buzz of Bayswater Road and Queensway.

Hyde Park's proximity to many of central London's university campuses, as well as the 24-hour party atmosphere of the West End, adds to its appeal to international students, giving the area a strong cosmopolitan presence. We rent to a broad spectrum of international students, with many moving here from mainland Europe, the Middle East and Asia. The majority of students ask to be within walking distance of their university to minimise travel costs, though travelling to any of London's university campuses is easy as the area is served by a number of nearby rail and underground stations.

Best known for:

Hyde Park, Speaker's Corner, live music events, Marble Arch, Oxford Street and Connaught Village.

Borough:

City of Westminster

Social and cultural attractions:

While the world-renowned streets of the nearby West End cater for every shopper's possible need, Connaught Village features a wide range of boutique shops, cafés and restaurants away from the hustle and bustle. Speakers' Corner hosts topical debates of the day, with illustrious figures such as Karl Marx, George Orwell and William Morris have all spoken here.

Sport and leisure facilities:

Hyde Park has 350 acres of parkland, the focal point being the Serpentine lake, with its outdoor swimming club and boating activities. The park is a peaceful place to relax and is popular for cycling, jogging and horse riding. It also hosts events throughout the year, from Winter Wonderland to open-air summer concerts.

Getting around:

Marble Arch, Lancaster Gate, Bayswater, Queensway, Royal Oak, Paddington

Our favourite places:

Coco Maya, for fine chocolates; Halepi, for authentic Greek food; Bathurst Deli, to eat in or take away; and Markus Coffee Co, with 34 varieties of coffee.

“THE WORLD-RENOWNED STREETS OF THE NEARBY WEST END CATER FOR EVERY SHOPPER'S POSSIBLE NEED.”
